

THE RAILWAY CHILDREN – E NESBIT

The gentle Edwardian lifestyle is about to be turned upside down for Bobbie, Peter and Phyllis...

Mysteriously separated from their father, Bobbie and her family relocate to “Three Chimneys” in Yorkshire. As endless days stretch before them, the family set about establishing themselves and making friends in the village. The all-important railway runs like a life vein through the community and its importance grows – learning from the people in and around it, the children rediscover and piece their family back together as the story steams towards its heart-warming and iconic end.

Wrapped in a blanket of nostalgia, Heartbreak's award-winning adaptation delivers the heart and soul of this timeless classic and, with inspirational storytelling and uplifting music at its core, guarantees to have the whole family, whatever their age, on their feet and cheering.

PRIVATE LIVES – NOEL COWARD

It's the 1930s and the cocktails are flowing... but will it be a Smooth Move or Whiskey Sour for Elyot and Amanda?

Divorced couple Elyot and Amanda are inadvertently reunited on their respective honeymoons to second spouses. Believing themselves still in love, they abandon their new partners and run off but it's not long before the champagne bubbles burst and they are back to the arguments – more bitter than angostura - that plagued their tempestuous marriage.

Irreverent, hilarious and sophisticated, Private Lives overflows with Noel Coward's celebrated eccentric wit and skilful comedic staging and, his glamorous, aristocratic characters seem incapable of taking much of anything seriously for long—a condition which proves contagious for the audience!

Moving from misfortune to full-blown absurdity, this fast-paced comedy proves to be the perfect recipe for a stylish evening's entertainment that combines all the bubbles and froth with the depth and complexities of a vintage champagne.

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING – WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE

The war is over... but not between Benedick and Beatrice!

It's “chocks-away” as Shakespeare's most entertaining and charming couple take to the stage to engage in their “merry war” and, with both proclaiming that they'll never fall in love, a battle of wits ensues.

But, as the airmen return from war and the Home Guard get ready to stand down, be prepared for a bumpy ride – infidelity, deception and mistaken identity challenge the lovers making Much Ado About Nothing a spectacle of comic and dramatic suspense. Will love take to the skies or take a nosedive and bomb?

Amid a flurry of 1940s Air Force uniforms, a whirlwind of war time song and dance, Heartbreak's sexy, sunny comedy is full of sparkling merriment and positively soars along as one set of lovers battle against dirty tricks, and another set simply battle each other!

Dynamic, poignant and ultimately hilarious, this production guarantees audiences will be filling the skies with the roar of laughter.
